BIO

Omozua Ameze Isiramen

Everything you can achieve, change or improve starts with the brain.

Omozua Isiramen is an internationally recognized Neuroscience Transformation and High-Performance Specialist.

Omozua provides Self-led Leaders, Business Owners, Corporate Executives and Professionals with a comprehensive methodology to decode their own unique brain signatures so they can elevate their personal and professional lives in all areas by attaining Neuro Agility and Emotional Intelligence & Personal Mastery.

Drawing from a profound moment of vulnerability that sparked her own journey of transformation, Omozua has become a pioneer in Brain-driven People Development and has spent over twenty years achieving specialisation in Neuro-Agility, Emotional Mastery and Actionable Resilience to empower business owners, sales & corporate professionals, executives and self-led leaders to reach the next level of success. Omozua fuses her deep understanding of neuroscience with a burning passion for leadership and personal development to help individuals modify their unique inner formula and push through limitations.

Having trained with one of the world's top executive coaching authorities, John Mattone, who famously worked with and coached Steve Jobs, Omozua masterfully uses her certification in Intelligent Leadership Executive Coaching and the intensive training in neuroscience and leadership development coaching she received to deliver neuroscience-based strategies that have been tried and tested across the board to help leaders significantly improve performance and well-being.

Omozua's ability to coach accomplished professionals to overcome their limiting barriers and unleash their potential to attain mastery stems from extensive experience in several areas, including Brain-based Personal and Leadership Development, Neuro Agility, Emotional Intelligence & Mastery, and Effective Communication Training.

As a pioneer in the brain-driven people development field, Omozua's diverse experiences living and working in various countries across Europe and Western African regions have put her in an excellent position to serve a global client base with an unparalleled appreciation for cultural and emotional nuances and the human drive.

Through her Brainification Coaching Program and the Manyoufest Code, her point of difference, Omozua offers tangible pathways to personal and professional growth, grounded in neuroscience principles and enriched by her own journey of self-discovery.

Omozua ISIRAMEN

Neuroscience Transformation & High Performance Specialist

www.omozua.com

coaching@omozua.com

@OmozuaNeuroCoaching

@omozuaneurocoaching

@omozuaisiramen

Beyond her professional achievements, Omozua dedicates herself to empowering young professionals, women and young girls by actively volunteering her time to help them grow and flourish. She is deeply passionate about the inner workings of the human brain and emotions and her dedication to advancing the real-world application of neuroscience insights underscores her belief in the transformative power of intentional change.

When you engage Omozua, you access over two decades of experience, knowledge, and wisdom in neuroscience, personal development, and leadership. Her heart-centred approach, combined with her tenacious entrepreneurial spirit, ensures that every client journey is guided with compassion and determination.

Omozua's mission is clear: to inspire and equip individuals to become CEOs of their Brains, Lives, and Outcomes.